

Goals of the Title I Program

- ◆ To create a caring, nurturing environment in which all students are safe
- ◆ To provide meaningful and engaging learning experiences that will help increase student achievement and prepare students for their future
- ◆ To establish effective communication between home and school
- ◆ To welcome parent participation in planning and reviewing school activities and programs
- ◆ To identify barriers to greater participation in school programs and reach out to families to enable student success

Parental Involvement

We want to partner with you. Parental Involvement takes many forms. This is the model that we use in our Title I schools.

- 1. Parenting-Assisting families to understand child development and setting home conditions that support learning.
- 2. Communicating-Providing information about school programs and student progress through effective forms of communication between home and school.
- 3. Volunteering-Recruiting, training and organizing families to help at school.
- 4. Learning at Home-Providing information and ideas to families about how to help students at home with homework and other learning activities.
- 5. Decision Making-Including parents as participants in school decisions through PTA committees and other parent organizations.
- 6. Collaborating with Community-Identifying and integrating resources and services from the community to strengthen school programs and family practices.

TITLE I MISSION

Indian Prairie School District #204 recognizes that a student's education is a joint responsibility shared by schools and parents as part of the larger community, and that these participants directly impact learning.

INTRODUCTION

This guide was created to provide helpful information to families to ensure that you fully appreciate how your child benefits from attending a Title I School, and to identify parent and community resources available to you. Our district receives federal funds, (based on census data) to supplement our regular school budgets and is used solely to provide additional learning opportunities, resources and extra support for our elementary schools with the highest numbers of students who qualify for free and/or reduced priced lunches.
