

"Today's Facebook Family:
What you need to know about social media and your children."

Do you know how to adjust the privacy settings on your child's Facebook page?
Have you ever seen your child's AIM page? Did you even know they probably have one?

Does your child's phone have a camera? Do you know what images they are sending?

Does your child's phone have internet access?

Are you familiar with the term LMIRL? (You'd better be!)

Do you know what sexting is? 30% of teens know because they have done it.

The way your children communicate these days is different - and it's important you know what they are saying and how they are communicating.

Lisa Trosien is a professional speaker and a parent, She advises her clients on how to use Social Media to communicate with their clients and in so doing, has become extremely familiar (and extremely worried!) about how kids today are utilizing cellphones and the internet to communicate. She shares her knowledge with you to help you understand what you need to do to keep your children safe.

Due to the content and nature of the program, this is for adults only.

Children will not be permitted to attend.
